

Client layer

Server layer — one process per configuration

Shared logic — identical across all protected configurations

